SIMÓN BOLÍVAR FOUNDATION

“HOY INVITA SIMÓN” SMALL GRANT FOOD PROGRAM

In light of the COVID-19 (Coronavirus) pandemic, The Simón Bolívar Foundation Inc. (the "Foundation"), a 501(c)(3) private foundation of CITGO Petroleum Corporation, has undertaken several initiatives that can help alleviate the effect of this disease in and out of Venezuela. This time the Foundation is launching a grant program called Hoy Invita Simón to help fund food initiatives in local communities hard hit by the economic and social impact of the pandemic.

As a result of the quarantine implemented with the arrival of COVID 19, many individuals have lost their jobs, or have been furloughed. Unemployment rates have skyrocketed, and families are struggling to get food on their tables. The situation can be particularly challenging for minority groups and immigrants.

At the same time, small businesses, including restaurants, food trucks and caterers, have been affected by the quarantine, due to staying at home orders, or with limited capacity to operate as the economy restarts.

The “Hoy Invita Simón ” grant program seeks to provide funds to eligible charitable organizations that are tax-exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of IRS Code that organize food drives for individuals in need without discrimination, but with special attention to members of the Venezuelan diaspora and other vulnerable populations who are suffering because of COVID-19. This is an open call to organizations to present proposals that can range from providing a warm meal on a one-day event to food drives to provide food supplies to families in need, to be implemented for several days, or weeks. Special attention will be given to those applicants who at the same time engage local businesses or organizations from the Venezuelan diaspora. This program is in line with two of the Foundation’s objectives: 1. Access to medicines, nutrition, and wellbeing, and 2. Empowering NGOs and local organizations.

The Foundation has allocated up to $100,000 to be awarded in small grants to proposals to implement this program in different cities across the U.S.

Funding Priority:

Priority will be given to proposals that better target communities in need, with a special aim at also reaching members of the Venezuelan diaspora in need, in different cities across the United States. The proposals should specifically present a gap analysis, indicating the need for the program, population benefited, execution plan, and a communication strategy defining how the target population will be reached. The foundation encourages strategic associations with local businesses and organizations, aiming at having a multiplier effect.

Applicants must certify tax-exempt status under Section 501(c)(3) of IRS Code or provide a fiscal sponsor, which is a 501 (c)(3) organization who agrees to be the legal entity to receive a grant on the applicant’s behalf if it doesn’t have a charitable status with US Tax Authority (IRS). If proposed programs utilize food vendors, the vendors, inclusive of restaurants and caterers must have all the required permits to operate. Though the food program should aim to reach the Venezuelan diaspora in need, it by no means can discriminate or exclude other individuals in need based on their nationality or any other criteria.

The Foundation will appoint an Evaluation Team, which will review all proposals. Proposals need to meet all established criteria. However, the Foundation will make all final decisions relating to the Program and grant awards, in its sole discretion.

The Evaluation Team reviews all proposals using established criteria per the scoring rubric included below. The criteria outlined in the rubric establish guidelines to assist the Evaluation Team members to perform their independent analysis of all proposals. The rubric is not intended to be all-inclusive and additional factors may be used to qualify proposals.

Proposals will be evaluated on their ability to achieve impact in the following areas:

1. Addresses the “Hoy Invita Simón” objectives: provide food to the vulnerable population, aiming to reach members of the Venezuelan diaspora in need, while working with small businesses or organizations.
2. Budget and Cost-effectiveness
3. Project design/plan
4. Project impact
5. Implementation time frame.
